PRESS RELEASE

Former New York Giants quarterback, Scott Brunner, joins Net Worth Management Group as Executive Vice President and Partner

Morristown, NJ (September 14, 2012): Net Worth Management Group is pleased to announce that Scott Brunner has joined the company as Executive Vice President and Partner. Mr. Brunner will provide wealth protection strategies, wealth management, and financial and estate planning strategies to individuals and businesses.

Scott Brunner brings to Net Worth Management Group an accomplished history of leadership and success. While leading the Delaware Fighting Blue Hens to a national championship in 1979, Scott received a Bachelor's of Science Degree in Accounting. Drafted to the NFL in 1980, he led the New York Giants to their first playoff berth since 1963. The strength of Brunner's game has always been his intelligence, a crucial skill which helped him fast-track his transition into the business world. For the past 15 years, Scott served as vice president of an institutional stock research and portfolio management firm on Wall Street. Today, Scott Brunner is Executive Vice President and Partner of Net Worth Management Group.

"We are pleased to welcome Scott Brunner to our company. Scott will work with clients to help them grow, protect, and distribute their assets with tax efficiency," said Douglas W. Todd, CEO and founder of Net Worth Management Group.

Football is, of course, still an integral part of Scott's life. He is one of the most sought after private quarterback coaches in the country. As the Offensive Coordinator at TEST Football Academy in Martinsville, New Jersey, Scott tutors aspiring NFL quarterbacks which include Baltimore Ravens, Joe Flacco. Scott continues to be regularly sought after by TV networks, business groups, and schools to share his insights for achieving success in the heat of competition.

Scott lives in Millburn, New Jersey with his wife and five children.
